

2025 Butterfield Scholarships Awarded

Sep 03 2025

St. Peter Port, Guernsey—03 September 2025: Butterfield has awarded its annual scholarships to three promising students including a talented student from Guernsey, Olivia Morgan, who will receive US$30,000 for the upcoming academic year. The scholarships can be maintained for up to four academic years.

Olivia received the recently launched Butterfield Channel Islands Undergraduate Scholarship, which is available to an outstanding student who is pursuing an undergraduate degree and has an interest in financial services. The scholarship funds will go towards studies in Business and Management with Innovation at the University of Bristol.

Through her studies, Olivia aims to acquire the necessary experience and knowledge to work in a successful financial business, or indeed, start her own, having been inspired by the creativity and passion needed for entrepreneurship. Outside of her academic studies, Olivia was a member of her school's Combined Cadet Forces and also enjoys a wide range of sports, including netball, cricket and shooting.

Richard Saunders, Butterfield's Managing Director of the Channel Islands & UK, said, "We are delighted to award this Channel Islands focused scholarship for the first time to Olivia and look forward to following her continued success. Butterfield continues to invest in education and provide opportunities for our young people with a view to empowering the next generation to achieve their career ambitions."

Butterfield has awarded two further scholarships in its other core banking jurisdictions, with Jeriel Fernandes from Bermuda who has received the Sir Harry D. Butterfield Undergraduate Scholarship to study Mathematics and Economics, majoring in Business, at the University of Liverpool and Zoe Bowen from the Cayman Islands receiving the Butterfield Undergraduate Scholarship to study Business Management, at the University of Bristol.

For more information on scholarships, internships and other educational and career opportunities, please visit www.butterfieldgroup.com.